John Minor Botts will publish a reply to the pamphlet of J. B. Baldwin, of Virginia, in refcrence to his interview with President Lincoln at the time the Virginia secession convention mitnesses to refute the statements of Mr. Baldwie, and strongly defends Mr. Lincoln.

The Washington Chronicle says :- "We understand that the Southern Unionists, now in this city, are preparing an address to the true loyal and unconditional Union men of the States lately in rebellion, urging the assembling of a convention in this city in September next.'

The city of Portland, Maine, one of the most beautiful in New England, has been nearly de- appoint delegates to the national convention. stroyed by fire. The destruction of property has been immense, the lurnt district entracing the very heart of the business portion of the city, and the finest buildings, both public and private. The product of the industry of forty years has been consumed in a few hours, and the lowest money estimate of the loss is ten millions of dollars. It is estimated that two thousand families have been rendered homeless by this appalling calamity, which exceeds in magnitude anything that has occurred at the North for thirty years; although it falls far short of the horrors of some teceut conflagrations at the South .- N. I. News.

The New York Post, a Republican paper, calls upon the President to veto the tariff bill now being passed by Congress. The Post says "We cannot doubt that the President will veto this oppressive bill. He is too enlightened a statesman, and too impartial a lover of the whole country, to give his consent to a scheme whose efforts will be, as we have frequently shown, to cripple our foreign commerce, to increase the present high prices of the neces caries of life, to retard the progress of the fifteen thousand are employed in the construccountry, to grant monopolies to a few manu facturing capitalists, and to seduce the scanty laboring force of the county from profitable into unprofitable employments.

Late and Important from Europe.

By the arrival of the steamship Saxonia at New York, we have advices from Europe to the 27th ult. The news she brings is quite important. The laying of the Atlantic cable was to have commenced on the 30th. The English Ministry had tendered their resignation to the Queen. The latter, however, had invited them to reconsider their determination, and they awaited the result of an interview, which was to have taken place on the 26th .-In the meantime Parliament was adjourned .-The latest advices state that the Queen had accepted the resignation of the Ministry, and the London Times announces that the Earl of Derby would form a new Ministry, with Lord Stanley as Foreign Minister.

The Italian army crossed the Mineio, and encountered no opposition until it reached Peschiera, when it was compelled to fall back after a short cannonade from the guns of that fortress. The army finally encountered the Austrians in great force in the vicinity of Verena. The Austrians had repulsed both wings Italian army was beaten after a bloody struggle, and had recrossed the Mincio. The Austrians captured two thousand prisoners. Another, and what purports to be a still later telegram, asserts that the Hanoverian army was completely surrounded. and that the King of Hanover, in the hope of receiving assistance from the Bavarians, had asked twenty-four hours for deliberation before determining what answer he would give to the demand for surrender. His request, we are told, had been acceded to. The Prussians had owing to the effective power of the Needle guns, had easily repulsed the Austrians husthe main body of the Austrian army, thus compelling the Prussians to evacuate Saxony by a flank attack. The Prussians had attacked Os weicin, in Galliela, but were beaten off with loss by the Austrians.—Balt. Gaz.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.-Bills were introduced in the Senate, en Saturday, to regulate appointments and removals from office, and directing the sale of the U. S. property at Harper's Ferry. Important from Cuba.

An arrival at Baltimore from Cuha, brings a report from Porto Principe that four steamers, bearing the Chilian flag, had effected a landing near Nativetas, of 2,000 troops, that an insurrection in the island had broken out-that the insurgents numbered 7,000 troops, that counter with the insurgents, and that three companies of these government troops had deserted, &c. The greatest excitement, it is said, prevailed at Hayana.
